

TutorEye Home Schooling: Case Study Report

Case Study 1

John Wilson, of Spring Hill is a college student and he has been having issues solving his mathematics and physics assignment questions as well as his test and exams questions due to his inability to assimilate formulas and do proper calculation. John was not always happy at school because he was in a lock down classroom with gang members and it was really a bad situation for him. John was always afraid he was going to get hurt as he was getting bullied because he spoke out of turn or would get upset easily. Twenty students in a classroom was a lot for him. Today, John is homeschooling himself with the help of TutorEye Homeschooling Services. TutorEye really helped John with his academic life, and now he can solve any physics and mathematical questions involving any type of formulas and he doesn't have to encounter the bad guys in his school anymore.

Case Study 2

Janet is a senior about to graduate this December with majors in Chemistry. Janet learn best from Homeschooling, and TutorEye gave her the best Homeschooling services. She was grateful she found TutorEye couple of months ago when she was having problems solving some tough chemistry questions. Janet was so glad she made the decision to use TutorEye Homeschooling services as it has been a wonderful journey for her. She uses TutorEye homeschooling services in order to make sure she is moving along at the educational pace she should be at and also to jump ahead of her peers in her Chemistry class and also to get herself ready for a career as an actuary.
